How did the Fund perform in the past 12 months and what affected its performance?

For the 12-month period ended March 31, 2026, the Sit Tax-Free Income Fund - Class S returned +5.05%, outperforming the Bloomberg 5-Year Municipal Bond Index's return of +4.09%. Both the U.S. Treasury and municipal yield curves steepened during the period, with yields on short bonds falling and yields on long bonds backing up about 35 and 25 basis points respectively. As such, the Fund's short duration bonds generally performed well, but long bonds contributed most to the outperformance. Credit quality was mixed with AA-rated and below investment grade bonds performing best. From a sector perspective, the Fund's overweight in single-family mortgage revenue bonds was a significant factor as spreads narrowed to historic lows and those bonds strongly outperformed. The Fund also benefited from its multi-family housing bonds, with a large concentration in senior living. Conversely, healthcare bonds, including specialty cancer treatment centers, dampened performance.

How did the Fund perform over the last 10 years?

The Fund continues to use the Bloomberg 5-Year Municipal Bond Index as an additional benchmark.

The line graph above shows the value of a hypothetical $10,000 investment in the Fund over the past 10 fiscal years (or since inception if shorter). The graph above and table below are total returns, which assume the reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any. Neither the Fund's returns nor the index returns reflect the deduction of taxes a shareholder would pay on Fund distributions or the redemption of Fund shares. The Fund's past performance is not a good predictor of the Fund's future performance. Updated performance information is available at www.sitfunds.com/documents.

¹ Duration is a measure of estimated price sensitivity relative to changes in interest rates. Portfolios with longer durations are typically more sensitive to changes in interest rates. For example, if interest rates rise by 1%, the fair value of a security with an effective duration of 5 years would decrease by 5%, with all other factors being constant. The correlation between duration and price sensitivity is greater for securities rated investment-grade than it is for securities rated below investment-grade. Duration estimates are based on assumptions by Sit Investment Associates, Inc. (the "Adviser") and are subject to a number of limitations. Effective duration is calculated based on historical price changes of securities held by the Fund, and therefore is a more accurate estimate of price sensitivity provided interest rates remain within their historical range.
